Two OTAN webinars coming up on Friday, June 15!

Posted on 06/08/2018

In our ongoing effort to keep the field informed of resources that may be of interest, OTAN is presenting two webinars on June 15 – please consider registering for one or both!

OTAN Tech Talk

Join us for OTAN's next Tech Talk from 1:00-2:00. This month's Tech Talk is on our Moodle shared online courses, presented by Debbie Jensen – an overview of OTAN's Moodle site, what is available, and how to get a course. After the presentation, time for Q&A will be provided at the end. Sign up at https://www.caadultedtraining.org/otan-tech-talks-2210-10-tr ↗

Our May Tech Talk on Chromebooks for Beginning Lit and Low is now posted on our YouTube channel. You can view the recording here: https://youtu.be/WdTb1pt2xJ4 ↗

If you're interested in sharing a tech tool or tip with your colleagues in the field at a future Tech Talk, submit your presentation idea using this Google Form: https://goo.gl/forms/zTHhXBtBwkoisSri2 ↗

Online Curriculum Series, Part Two

OTAN is offering a series of webinars, each focused on different curriculum suggested by our OTAN Advisory Committee members and the field, to provide information to adult educators on products that might be of interest to their programs and students. The second webinar in the series is scheduled from 3:30 to 4:30. We have invited two vendors to present: Edmentum and Spark3000.

Edmentum, formerly Plato Learning, is a leading provider of online instructional software, meeting the needs of a variety of program goals: ESL, HSE, ABE, HS Diploma, Credit Recovery, Workforce Readiness, WIOA, CTE, and many, many more.

Achieve3000, the leader in differentiated literacy instruction, created Spark3000. By reaching learners at their individual reading levels, assessing progress on an ongoing basis and adjusting reading levels continually, Spark3000 enables users to make critical reading and career gains.?
